

CHARLES HILL

Research Fellow

Expertise: International political affairs

In addition to his Hoover appointment, Charles Hill is a diplomat in residence and lecturer in international studies at Yale University; he is also a distinguished visiting fellow in diplomacy at Baylor University. A career minister in the U.S. Foreign Service, he was executive aide to former U.S. secretary of state and Hoover fellow George P. Shultz from 1985 to 1989 and served as special consultant on policy to the secretary-general of the United Nations from 1992 to 1996. He is principal editor of the forthcoming three-volume collection The Papers of Secretary-General Boutros Boutros-Ghali. The holder of a J.D. and an M.A. in American studies from the University of Pennsylvania, he has received numerous awards for public service, including the President's Distinguished Service Award in 1987 and 1989.