

KENNETH E. SCOTT

Senior Research Fellow

Expertise: Public regulation of banking institutions, corporation law, securities law.

In addition to his Hoover appointment, Kenneth Scott is a professor emeritus of law at Stanford University. His current research focuses on legislative and policy developments relating to bank regulation and deposit insurance reform. He is also exploring the application of new economic perspectives to corporate law and governance issues. The holder of an LLB from Stanford Law School, he is a member of the state bar in New York, California, and the District of Columbia. He is the author of two books and many articles for legal and financial journals. He is a member of the Financial Economists Roundtable and the Shadow Financial Regulatory Committee.