

Acknowledgments

EARLY DRAFTS OF this manuscript were read by David Holloway, Wolfgang Panofsky, Harry Rowen, and George Shultz. We wish to recognize and thank them for their important criticisms and for valuable discussions on the issues addressed in this book, from which it—and we—have benefited greatly. S.D. wishes to express his appreciation to the Hoover Institution and its director, John Raisian, for their continuing support. J.G. wishes to express his thanks to the Institute of International Studies at Stanford and its director, David Holloway, for their support of this project carried out in the winter and early spring of 2003 during which time J.G. was the Diplomat-in-Residence at Stanford University's Institute of International Studies. We also wish to thank Bonnie Rose for efficient and essential help in preparing the manuscript, and Patricia Baker, the Executive Editor, and her staff at Hoover Institution Press for their excellent support in turning our manuscript into this book. Finally, we wish to acknowledge Petrus Buwalda, Pierce Corden, Nancy Gallagher, Richard Garwin, Hon. Lee Hamilton, Raymond Jeanloz, Ted Postol, Larry Scheinman, and Strobe Talbott for their encouragement and many useful comments. Responsibility for the book's contents, of course, falls only on the shoulders of the authors.