

DENNIS L. BARK

Senior Fellow

Expertise: International relations and national security affairs; European politics, with emphasis on the economic, political, and military aspects of the European Community

A Hoover fellow since 1972, Dennis Bark received his Ph.D. in modern European history and political science from the Free University of Berlin. He is the author or editor of nine books, including Thinking about America: The United States in the 1990s (1988), which he coedited with Hoover fellow Annelise Anderson. His most recent work is Reflections on Europe (1997), an edited volume to which he contributed the essay “The American-European Relationship: Reflections on Half a Century, 1947–1997.” In March 1997, he was awarded the Knight’s Cross of the Order of Merit, First Class, of the Federal Republic of Germany in recognition of his contributions to German-American relations. In October 2001, he received the Knight’s Cross of the National Legion of Honor of the Republic of France. He currently serves as chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Earhart Foundation.