

RICHARD F. STAAR

Senior Fellow

Expertise: The federation of Russia and East-Central Europe, military strategy, national security, arms control, public diplomacy

The holder of a Ph.D. in political science from the University of Michigan, Richard Staar served as U.S. ambassador to the Mutual and Balanced Force Reduction negotiations in Vienna, Austria, 1981–83. Recent publications include personal reminiscences, Born under a Lucky Star (2002), Transition to Democracy in Poland (revised edition, 1998), and The New Military in Russia: Ten Myths That Shape the Image (1996). His current areas of research focus on the political dynamics of Russia, including foreign policy as it affects the United States; deterioration of the military, which involves the global balance of power; and Vladimir Putin's leadership. He serves on the editorial boards of Orbis and Mediterranean Quarterly. He taught at Duquesne University during 1999 and 2000 as a visiting professor of political science. His decorations include the Presidential Legion of Merit.